SEQUENTIAL COURSES

It is very important that you take courses in sequence and register for the proper course numbers. Sequenced courses should be taken in the same academic year. For example: BALLE 2300 Character Dance I (Fall) and BALLE 2310 Character Dance II (Spring). Some numbers stay the same all year (Ballet Technique – 2290, 3290, 4290, etc.) and others are in sequence (Character, Modern and Jazz Dance).

It is critical that you register for these courses properly so that they count towards graduation

COURSES REPEATABLE FOR CREDIT

Some classes, such as Independent Study and Ballet Technique, are repeatable for credit. This means that if you register for BALLE 2290 twice, both of them will count and you will receive credit for both. Additionally, both grades will count toward your GPA. However, other classes, such as BALLE 2300 (1) Character Dance I, are not repeatable. This means that if you register for BALLE 2300 twice, one of the 2300 classes will not count, and the second grade will replace the grade of the first because 2300 is not repeatable for credit.

Make sure you know which courses are repeatable and which are not, so you stay on track for graduation.

Courses that are repeatable for credit have an (R) next to them (see above). While a course may be repeatable, there is always a maximum number of credit hours you can receive for a course. If you plan to repeat a course, schedule an appointment with your academic advisor.
